GENERAL NEWS.

Strike of Street Car Employes at Chicago.

REV. STEPHEN H. TYNG'S VALEDICTORY.

The Mormons Pushing Church Rule into Arizona—A Leadville Mine on Fire—Complete Election Returns from Chicago.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

CHICAGO, April 7.—The drivers and conductors of the West Division Railway decided to-night by a unanimous vote to strike at 4 o'clock to-morrow morning. This will impose great hardships on the public, as it is understood that the officers of the road have not made arrangements to supply their places. The strike is the outgrowth of the recent snow blockade in the streets. Owing to that blockade, drivers and conductors were obliged to make trips double or treble the usual length, and they state that although they were then promised extra compensation per trip, the promise was unfulfilled. Their pay is reckoned by the trip, and the hardship was therefore a great one, as the blockade was of long duration. They also say that since they have held meetings looking toward increased pay, several of their number have been discharged without warning, care apparently being taken to select those who would feel the discharge most severely. Their compensation is at best very small. The work runs from 12 to 16 hours per day and the pay from $1 70 to $2 06 per day, and yet the company place them under bonds and require the strictest integrity, utmost faithfulness and perfect courtesy and patience under most trying circumstances, and they pay them with a frugality bordering on meanness and work them almost beyond endurance, placing on them all losses, which should justly fall to the company. They demand as condition of their resuming that their present wages be increased 20 per cent.

Leland Stanford again States his Views on Railroads.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The chamber of commerce met to-day, when a special committee on railroad transportation presented a report giving the views of Leland Stanford in regard to the principle governing the relations of railroads to the public. President Stanford denies that railroads are public highways and common carriers, deriving their existence from the state, and asserts that they owe no duties to the public other than those of the merchant, farmer or laborer. He denies the existence of discriminations upon roads with which he is connected, but justifies them in principle. He substantially admits that railroad companies contribute large sums for the control of nominations of elections, and says that it is no better nor worse than where the same is done by individuals. He claims that stock watering is a matter which affects only individual owners and in which the public have no interest. He repudiates the idea of state regulation of railroads with the words, "What you propose in regard to railroad property is to my mind in line with principles contended for by communists and agitators. Kearney advocated no doctrine in regard to property more atrocious than the principles embodied in the granger cases and the laws which they sustain." The panacea proposed by President Stanford for all the evils of the present system of railroad management is "Let us alone."

More of the Strike—The People Aid the Strikers.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Not a car is running to-day on the west side street lines, the strike of conductors and drivers having left the company helpless. At first they made a faint show of running cars, but the initial car was unceremoniously dumped into the ditches by the passengers as soon as they learned the true state of affairs, and the passengers themselves cheerfully resumed their journey down town, about three miles, on foot. No other attempt was made to run the cars. The employes distinctly state that they will not attempt boycotting, and their manly stand and the apparent justice of their cause has gained for them the good will and support of the people.

An Interesting Ceremony.

CHICAGO, April 7.—In the presence of 6 bishops, 120 clergy and 65,000 people Archbishop Feehan was formally installed in his exalted office of archbishop of this catholic diocese, the ceremony being bestowal upon him of the pallium or robe of office, brought to this country from Rome. The ceremony was performed in the cathedral of the Holy Name and was interesting, novel and impressive.

As Boston Views the Deadlock and its Cause.

BOSTON, April 7.—The Transcript says: Senators appear to be struggling entirely for the poor satisfaction of electing [illegible] as officers of the senate, Gorham [illegible], neither of whom is fit to represent a great national party.

The Herald: It is a pity that Massachusetts' senators could not [illegible] and talk with the people. They [illegible] Hale and [illegible] in favor, [illegible] business before [illegible] longer over senate offices.

Trouble with a Gang of Chinese Laundrymen.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The proprietor of a laundry at Belleville, where over 200 Chinamen were till recently employed, is now supplied almost exclusively with white labor. Casebolt, the manager, became satisfied, he says, that white labor was cheaper than the pig tails, and began several men through to make a change; but a large number of Chinamen still remained in his service. A few days ago one of them, who was grossly offensive in demeanor toward Casebolt, was discharged. Thinking that the foreman had been instrumental in securing discharge of the workman, the Chinese demanded that he be discharged. Casebolt refused and the Chinamen threatened to kill him. They quit work and spent their time playing cards. A day or two after they armed themselves with dirk-knives, gathered on the laundry premises and yelled like Comanche Indians. Mr. Casebolt went boldly into the crowd and declared that he would punish any one of them that raised a hand against either himself or his foreman. When a constable who had been sent for arrived, Casebolt put Yang Jock, one of the ringleaders, in irons and the rest of the crowd retreated. Casebolt discharged all of them and they marched in single file to the depot. On Monday 20 of them returned, and promising to obey rules, were taken back to work; but Casebolt says that he will discharge them as soon as he can replace them with white men and women.

Say Hung vs. Lee Hoy.

The Chinese case was concluded in the court of common pleas yesterday. The jury were out two hours. They returned a verdict of $585 fine for plaintiff. The counsel for Lee Soy obtained a stay of 60 days, and announced the intention of moving at the special term for a new trial. The corridors were full of Chinese, chatting volubly. The adherents of Lee Soy hung their heads and slunk away while the friends of Lee Tung broke out into broad grins and marched off.

Starved to Death.

NEW YORK, April 7.—An undertaker to-day sent to the bureau of vital statistics a certificate signed by a physician to the effect that a Mrs. Magnella Mills, aged 61, died at 442 West 34th street, from "voluntary inanition," and troubles and misfortune in the family, together with the loss of $2000, stolen from her, as is alleged, by an adopted daughter, caused Mrs. Mills to become despondent and finally insane. About three weeks ago she ceased to partake of any food. Everything short of violence was made to induce her to eat, but she refused to swallow anything except water. Nine days ago she refused water also, and from that time fasted. The coroner will make an investigation.

Railroad Laborers Wanted in Colorado.

DENVER, April 7.—Much difficulty is experienced in obtaining laborers for railroads being constructed through Colorado. The Denver and Rio Grande alone require from five to ten thousand laborers for the grading of five hundred miles of extension, which they have under contract in Colorado and adjoining territories. They offer work at about two dollars per day to able bodied men who apply at either Denver or South Pueblo. New extensions are projected, which, on completion of those now under way, will give employment to a large force.

Sale of a Railroad.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 7.—The Western narrow gauge railroad has been sold under foreclosure of mortgage. Col. W. B. Botts was the purchaser at $101,000. A new company has been formed, with H. H. Honore, of Chicago, president. Col. Fred Grant will probably resign from the army to take charge as chief engineer, and the road will immediately be extended from its present terminus, Pattison, 42 miles west of Houston, to Presidio, on the Rio Grande.

Desperado Killed.

DENVER, April 7.—William Lowe, a fugitive from Farmingham, New Mexico, where he had killed a man, was shot dead at Del Norte to-day, by J. H. Jackson, for stealing his horse and threatening his life on different occasions.

Kit Carson's Comrade Dead.

Albert Pfeifer, a pioneer and comrade of Kit Carson, is dead.

The Army of the Tennessee.

CINCINNATI, April 7.—The Society of the Army of the Tennessee re-elected General Sherman president and the other officers. St. Louis will be the next place of meeting, and May 10th and 11th the next date.

Fire at Peoria.

PEORIA, April 7.—Hart & Co's union grain drill factory burned this morning; loss $35,300, insurance $17,000.

Storm in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, April 7.—A heavy storm prevails in a wide radius about this city. Streams are already full and will require little encouragement to pass the danger line and cause disastrous floods.

A Boy Kills his Sister.

SUNBURY, Pa., April 7.—While Mrs. Hovers and family were at dinner to-day, a daughter 17 and a son 9 quarrelled. The boy left the table and returning with a shotgun, fatally shot his sister. The boy gives as a reason for the crime: "They would not give me enough to eat."

Among Untitled Workers.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Rev. Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., writes for the Times: "I do not propose to discontinue myself from the ministry of the gospel or to [illegible] my interest or cooperation in the good works of the church of holy Trinity. My hope is that by change of thought and occupation I may soon be sufficiently restored in nervous power to resume my labors in this city. In the meantime I propose to take my place in the ranks among the untitled Christian workers.

Vessel Lost.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 7.—The steamer United States, from Boston, is ashore near Cape Romain and has been abandoned. Her entire crew and two passengers were saved. Efforts are being made to save the cargo.

Fatal Accident.

LYNN, Mass., April 7.—The bursting of a stone in Johnson's Morning Mill killed two men and wounded several yesterday.

The Chicago Election.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Harrison's majority over Clarke for mayor, according to complete returns, is 7247. The democrats also elect other city officers by small majorities. In town elections the vote is so close that the official count will be necessary to decide who has been chosen in many cases. At present honors are about divided among parties.

Conkling at New York.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The presence of Conkling in the city drew last evening a number of republican and democratic officials, who discussed the probabilities of the confirmation of Robertson. So far as Senator Jones, who was supposed to have come to the city on an errand for the opponents to the Robertson nomination, did not remain long. It was said that he early ascertained that it would be hopeless to attempt to secure the withdrawal of Robertson and therefore returned to Washington.

The Republican Attitude in Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, April 6.—Republican members of the legislature in caucus have adopted resolutions approving the republican stand in the senate.

By a Party Vote.

HARRISBURG, April 7.—The republican caucus resolution endorsing the course of the republicans in the U. S. senate passed the senate by a party vote. Senator Gordon (dem.) moved to amend by inserting a proviso that the resolution should not be construed to endorse the bargain with Mahone; defeated.

Adjourned.

NASHVILLE, April 7.—The legislature adjourned to-day, having provided necessary laws for the interest of the debt.

Republicans Carry Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 7.—At the state election yesterday, a light vote was cast. The republican ticket is elected, as follows: Governor, Alfred H. Littlefield; lieutenant governor, Henry H. Fay; secretary of state, Joshua M. Addeman; attorney general, Willard Sayles; treasurer, Samuel Clark. Littlefield's majority over Coddington (ind.) and democratic candidates, 5052; Fay's majority over democratic, prohibition and greenback candidate, 5775. The senate comprises 29 republicans, 5 democrats, 2 vacancies; house—63 republicans, 7 democrats, 2 vacancies. The republicans gain 2 in each house compared with the state election last year. The republicans gain 500 on the popular vote; democrats lose 2202; prohibitionists lose 4417.

Fire in a Leadville Mine.

LEADVILLE, April 7.—The fire in Flyer Hill mines, which was never completely extinguished but has been smouldering for weeks, broke out anew yesterday between Little Pittsburg and Carboniferous and is raging furiously, necessitating the stopping of all work in the immediate vicinity and throwing over a hundred men out of employment. Preparations are being made to rush steam into drifts and smother the flames.

Flowers for the Gray.

NEW ORLEANS, April 6.—Confederate graves were decorated to-day.

Little Dog's Outfit.

CHICAGO, April 7.—A Poplar creek dispatch says the advance guard of Little Dog's outfit arrived, reporting that Little Dog and 40 lodges will be there inside of two days. Supplies will be sent them from the garrison, as they are destitute. They say Sitting Bull is following in their wake.

Suicidal Starvation.

IOWA CITY, Ia., April 7.—Noon to-day was the commencement of Miss Hattie Duell's 44th day of fasting. Her condition this morning was more favorable and she seemed stronger than any one expected. She has failed gradually all day and to-night she is very low, although it is probable that she will live several hours. Her pulse is more variable than at any time previous. Sometimes she is so weak that it is impossible to count her pulse. The City Medical Society resolved yesterday that it views with the deepest regret the unseemly, disgusting exhibition of the misfortunes of a human being, and that those who abet the prolonged suicide of an insane individual should be held responsible according to the principles of common law. Dr. Aylworth, her brother-in-law, will apply to-morrow. It is believed that the commissioners of insanity will be forced to take charge and, if possible, restore her by injecting food.

A Hint of Civil Trouble in Russia.

COLOGNE, April 7.—The Gazette says: The Russian Grand Duke Nicholas Constantinovitch, notorious in connection with a theft of diamonds, was arrested Tuesday night in the village of [illegible] in a carriage belonging to his father, Grand Duke Constantine, brother of the late czar, near St. Petersburg, on suspicion of being concerned in political intrigues in favor of his father. It is not known if the latter was privy to the intrigues.

Land Office Decision.

The acting commissioner of the general land office has decided that under section 2401 of the revised statutes, deposits may be made for surveys of non-mineral lands claimed under preemption, homestead, timber culture and desert land laws.

Woman and the Ballot in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 7.—The house this morning passed a joint resolution by a vote of 57 to 25, amending the constitution giving women the right to vote at all state elections.

Nitro-Glycerine Stolen.

A hundred [illegible] pounds of nitro-glycerine, intended for use in the Mount Washington tunnel, have been stolen from the store at [illegible].

Ex-President Hayes Toasts "The United States."

CINCINNATI, April 7.—At a banquet to-night of the Army of the Tennessee, ex-President Hayes answering the toast, "The United States," said that the toast was eloquent and a sufficient answer to the question, "What has been gained by the war of 1861?" He entered at some length into the great extent and resources of the country; to its early trials, and stated that it seemed to be the chief danger of these times that neglect of the people to exercise their power at the ballot box would give the demagogue and trickster their opportunity. Intelligence would gradually obviate this danger, and the wisest men would eventually be found at the front of political movements. He paid a warm tribute to President Lincoln, to his wisdom and knowledge of the people. He compared the smallness and sufficiency of our army with the magnitude and inadequacy of armies of other countries. The wealth of our country increases from two to three millions daily, and the debt will in a comparatively short time be extinguished in full payment. We were becoming more careful not to permit lawless exhibitions against the weaker race and nations, and are more tender and more jealous of their rights. Many other toasts were given and happily responded to.

Vessel Ashore.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The steamer Scheidam, for Rotterdam, is ashore near Brower's Haven; assistance sent.

THE AMERICAN HOG.

More Testimony Showing the Purity of our Pork Products.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Secretary Blaine has received from the United States consul at Basle, Switzerland, a letter about the importation of pork from America. Consul Mason, after investigation of the circumstances that led to the excitement in France and Switzerland, reaches the following conclusions:

First—The ostensible occasion for the agitation of this subject and the decree of interdiction by the French government was an outbreak of trichinosis in a family which at first was supposed to have eaten American pork. It is now officially conceded that the trouble was caused by the flesh of a newly killed home bred pig eaten in a raw state. In some instances of recent occurrence salt pork of alleged American origin found affected with trichina has been proven to have come from Germany, where, as is well known, trichinosis originated many years ago.

Second—There is no instance on record of any person in Europe being injured in health by eating hams or pork imported in a salted condition from the United States, the only danger from trichina being through eating hogs' flesh in a fresh state recently slaughtered and imperfectly cooked.

Third—That from the first of November, 1880, until the 20th of January, 1881, 2½ months, 36,351,030 pounds of lard and 137,987,500 pounds of hog flesh has been exported from the United States to Great Britain, where official inspection of such imports is most rigid, and in all this vast quantity no instance of infection could be discovered.

Fourth—Almost all authenticated instances of injury to human health by trichina have occurred in Germany, where fresh pork is sometimes eaten uncooked; and no such danger has been incurred from eating salted and seasoned meats.

Fifth—During two years the principal importer of American meats in the consular district of Basle, has had all such goods which were imported by him carefully inspected by an official designated for that purpose by the city government, and that at the end of that time this inspection was voluntarily discontinued, being considered by the civil authorities no longer necessary.

Sixth—That the government of Belgium has formally declined to adopt the interdiction against American meat for the reason as stated, that no just grounds for action have been discovered in Belgium.

THE JEANNETTE SEARCH.

Plan of the Trip Stated by Chief Engineer Bane.

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—Chief Engineer A. V. Bane, U. S. navy, received orders on Tuesday to accompany the Jeannette search expedition to the arctic. His home is in Philadelphia. He informed the press reporter that the Mary and Helen will probably sail from San Francisco about June 1st. Of course we will stop at Sitka or some other point for coal, dogs, furs, etc., and the paraphernalia necessary on an arctic voyage. If we do not find any message at Wrangel Island, where we shall probably first stop, we will go to Herald Island, where it was arranged that Capt. DeLong should leave a message in case he could not land at the former place. The search along the coast of these two islands will probably take two months, when the arctic winter will begin. We are then ordered to find a secure harbor at Wrangel Island, and if this is not possible, to cross over to Siberia and go into winter quarters there. During the winter sledge parties will be organized and sent out in search of news of the Jeannette. Our orders are not to stay north more than one winter, but to prosecute the search after spring opens and remain until winter sets in again. Then we return to San Francisco. The Mary and Helen will be commanded by naval officers and will carry twenty-five men. She will be fully provisioned for the trip, and will have plenty of food on board to supply the Jeannette or any other vessels in distress. The government furnishes all heavy clothing and for clothing for officers and men. We will take canned vegetables and meats of various sorts, and 17,000 pounds of pemmican, which is now being made in Baltimore. Very little [illegible] will be taken. Every man on board will be a volunteer, and the detail was made by the department after the men had notified it of their intention to go. There will be no scientists with the expedition. Therefore, besides the regular duties of the officers, they will be assigned to various scientific investigations. I am to look out for mineralogy discoveries. All the officers are assigned to other special branches. A complete photographic outfit will be on the ship, which will be fully equipped with everything necessary on a voyage of discovery. We expect to return in about fifteen months.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Conkling wants to Compromise.

[illegible] the president to make [illegible] administration [illegible] Conkling [illegible] and all his friends are using their endeavors to compromise [illegible] since little concession from the president, so that [illegible] at any rate be counted and called a compromise. A thorough canvass of the senate [illegible] democrats that Conkling is reduced to defeat, and he knows it. Only two democratic senators ever talk of voting with him. Maxey, Voorhees and Garland, who have been published as his supporters, deny and denounce the report as false. On the republican side Conkling should be given his opposition to Robertson's [illegible] he would not get over [illegible] a dozen votes. Conkling elected to go to Wisconsin with Carpenter's remains knowing that whatever might occur in the senate, his agent could not open in his absence. He is seeking every means to [illegible] the battle in hope that some arrangement will be made by which he can retreat with out dishonor.

The President and the Dead-lock.

A statement made in numerous dispatches from here that the president may decide to revoke all the [illegible] and [illegible] to the senate to break the dead-lock is all bosh. There is no necessity for the president to resort to any extreme or even decent measures to break the dead-lock. He is embarrassed by the situation and would like to have the nominations confirmed, but in accordance with his expressed opinion, he has hesitated to advise the senate what it ought to do. He has, in short, not interposed and naturally has hoped to see his party win. Now that the democrats appear so determined to stand on the ground that their party is not suffering because of the dead-lock it is believed that the president will ask his friends in the senate to go into executive business. If the present situation continues much longer the president has friends enough in the senate to execute his wishes when he chooses to express them.

Babble about Washington.

Rumors are flying about the capital this afternoon more thickly than usual, one being that a secret committee of republican senators has been appointed in Conkling's interest to urge the president to withdraw Robertson and substitute a man from another state than New York. While Conkling is trying all sorts of schemes, the president declares himself firm as a rock and will stand by Robertson unless the latter voluntarily withdraws. Talk about appointing David Davis collector of New York is considered silly trash. He would not have the office and its ceaseless annoyances. Arthur's friends will attempt to adjourn the senate from this afternoon until Monday, as Arthur wants to go to New York and cannot leave a substitute, as in the case of a crisis being reached his vote is necessary to his party. The democrats will assist adjournment.

The President's Views on the New Movement in the South.

The democrats until to-day seem to have thought that the senate republicans were not supported by the administration. The president to some Virginia republicans to-day said that he was fully in sympathy with the independent movement in Virginia and would do all he could to encourage it. He believed that the proper course for the republicans to pursue was to unite with the anti-bourbon element in the democratic party wherever possible. He did not endorse the position assumed by some managers of the republican organization in Virginia, who opposed any coalition with Mahone. This declaration shows that Garfield does not approve the action of the national committee in New York last summer, which at the very time when coalition was about to be effected which might have insured the electoral vote of the state to the republicans, denounced all efforts at coalition and precipitated. Straight out republicans in Virginia under the lead of General Wickham have thus been officially informed that their policy is not approved by the administration. Independent senators think that there is promise of a general and organized movement of independents in the southern states during the coming summer and autumn. Many reasons for believing that the time is ripe for such organization, and with leaders of character and determination, the greater number of those states can be carried and controlled by such independent combination. The promoters of this southern independent movement here recall all [illegible] in their politics. Everywhere there is a demand for a free vote and fair count. [illegible] southern [illegible] the class of men who [illegible] kept in power in those states [illegible] Wickham [illegible] to organize [illegible] which they are [illegible] for [illegible] effect.

The Conkling Programme.

[illegible]

Adjourned till Monday—The Reason Why.

The senate adjourned over until Monday this afternoon, partly by reason of weariness with long contests and deadlocking, but mainly because Vice President Arthur desires to go to New York to-night and because it was evident that [illegible] of the five senators who leave Washington to-morrow morning with the remains of senator Carpenter no substantial progress is likely to be made towards any settlement; whereas, on the other side, again termination of several days in the deadlocked may naturally find something that [illegible] to [illegible] termination.

Senatorial and Personal.

Senator Jones, of Nevada, who went to New York last Monday night on the same train with Senator Conkling, returned last evening. The report that his trip was for the purpose of endeavoring to bring about a withdrawal of Judge Robertson's nomination had no foundation whatever, he visited the metropolis simply to look after his personal interests. Representative Page has also returned from New York. Senator Fair left Washington this evening for St. Louis, to be absent about ten days. He says that he is called there by important private business, and has paired with his colleague on all party questions for the period of his absence. Jones and Page will leave for Milwaukee to-morrow morning with the other members of the escort of Senator Carpenter's remains, but will be back next Wednesday. Senators Teller of Colorado and Maxey of Texas, have paired and left Washington for the session. Senator Edmunds' pair has been transferred to Senator Garland of Ark., who has also taken his departure, not to return again this session.

Personal.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The widow of the late Admiral Farragut, is a guest at the White House.

Barnum, the showman, called on the president to-day, but denies wanting office.

About Maturing Bonds.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A proposition, made by a gentleman attending the recent financial conference in New York, namely, to extend maturing 5 and 6 per cent. bonds at a lower rate of interest, is very generally approved by treasury officials (with the exception of the secretary, who will not express any opinion on the subject) as the most feasible plan which the government can pursue. The secretary of the treasury is not required to give notice before calling outstanding 6 per cent. bonds for redemption. These bonds amount in the aggregate to $195,69[illegible],400, and are redeemable June 30 next. After that date any that may be called will cease to draw interest. Officials in favor of the proposed extension of bonds at a lower rate argue that the secretary might call for the redemption of say $100,000,000 of these bonds June 30th next, and make it optional with holders of bonds so called to present them for redemption or have them extended at a rate of interest not exceeding 3½ per cent. A large majority, if not all holders of bonds, would, it is maintained, prefer the latter measure. This action, with regard to 6s, according to the ideas of those advocating it, should be followed immediately by a call for amounts of outstanding 5s equivalent to the amount of 6s extended. These calls, officials suggest, should be made conditional, so that persons desiring to continue their bonds until congress passes a funding bill at a lower rate of interest, rather than have them redeemed, may do so by complying with the conditions necessary within the specified time. The aggregate amount of 5 per cents. redeemable May 1st is $451,190,850. Should this method prove successful, it would not be necessary to sell any bonds whatever. While nothing can be said officially as to the course which will be adopted, there is good authority for the statement that this plan is receiving thorough consideration, and indications appear to be in favor of its adoption.

At an important financial conference here between some New York bankers and the president and Secretary Blaine it was urged that whatever arrangement may be made for extending 5 per cent. bonds at a reduced rate the bonds of the government require that those per cents., which are payable June 30th, must be paid that day. Sixes are on a very different basis from the 5s. If the former are redeemable June 30th without notice, the latter cannot be redeemed until after three months' notice. The government can give that notice May 1st and the 5s cannot be paid until three months after that. The amount of 6s payable June 30th, without further notice, is $157,000,000. Whenever other loans made upon the same terms have become payable, it has been held by the treasury that failure of prompt payment would be a stain upon the honor of the government. It was urged that the government has $163,000,000 from which to pay these bonds, though the sale of $101,000,000 of 4 or 4½ per cents. and surplus revenues an additional $47,000,000 could be obtained under the Bayard amendment by anticipating surplus revenue for three or four months. These gentlemen urge that the 6s be paid and means be provided in this manner. The conditions are different with 5s. Notice need not be given until three months before the present congress will likely be able to take care of them.

A Great Store of Gold.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A treasury official remarked to-day that there was now massed in the vaults of the department a larger amount of gold than was ever known to be in one place in the history of the nation—at least, and probably more than could be identified as existing in a single treasury at any time before in the world. There is now about $171,[illegible] of gold coin and bullion, exclusive of some $[illegible] in silver, while the Bank of England has only about $75,000,000 in gold. What is more singular, it stays in the vaults no matter what demand for it. As fast as it is paid out, it returns, showing that as long as confidence is maintained it is not a favorable currency.

Lawlessness at Havana.

Commodore Meade, of the U. S. steamer Vandalia, in a letter to the navy department, dated March 11th, says: Havana is healthy, but lawlessness prevails and goes unrestrained. Murder and robbery are of daily occurrence, and recently the British consul was nearly murdered by ruffians.

Admiral Maxse on Ireland.

LONDON, April 7.—Victor Hugo having requested Admiral Maxse to give his written views on the recent situation in Ireland and the cause, in consequence of a manifesto addressed to Parnell, the admiral has complied with the poet's request and now prints his statement in the form of a brief pamphlet. The admiral recognizes and supports the honest and capable efforts of Gladstone's cabinet to deal with Irish land grievances. He condemns the conduct of Parnell and associates, and declares that they know perfectly well that if the present cabinet resigned the only alternative would be a reactionary conservative cabinet, which as we well know has always been persistent in handling Ireland by means of landlords and by force. He demands that the claims of the Parnell party to a separation of Ireland from English domination, a policy which would lead to a sanguinary civil war. Although England will not consent to dismemberment, he believes that if good land laws and self-government are conceded to Ireland the foundation will be laid for a friendly union between the two countries. In conclusion he urges Victor Hugo to preserve generous silence at a time when England is striving to heal a great difficulty and mend some of the wrongs committed by generations now asleep.

Premier Cairoli also communicated a declaration made to him by the French ambassador relative to Tunis, that France only sought to defend her own frontier, and added: "We must take note of this declaration and let France know the value we attach to it. We consider it a formal promise not to violate the status quo which has been accepted by Europe." Italy and England are perfectly agreed in their views on the Tunisian question. Signor Damiani said that Cairoli's statement was unsatisfactory. He reproached the premier with not seeing what was patent to everybody, and submitted a resolution of censure. Cairoli moved that the resolution be discussed to-morrow. Much excitement exists among the deputies.

Mormon Church Conference.

SALT LAKE, April 7.—The April conference of the Mormon church, after a session of four days, adjourned this afternoon. It was not so well attended as usual, nor was the interest so great. The necessity of loyalty to their religion and practicing polygamy was firmly impressed upon the saints, who have been very much encouraged over the decision of the Miles polygamy case in their favor by the supreme court of the United States. About 30 missionaries were set apart for work in the United States and Europe. Of this number 25 are to be sent to Arizona, which territory the Mormon Church is determined to control politically.

A Democratic View of It.

From the New York World.

With a President elected by the votes of our States and that a vote determined in his favor by a margin of 15,000 votes captured through treachery in the ranks of his opponents and who is in a minority on the whole popular vote, and with a senate which has been declared to be republican only by the casting vote of a vice-president, and with a house republican by the narrowest possible margin—it ought to be plain even to the average disinterested spectator of American politics that the republican party sits on a spike when it poises itself as a majority on the stranded foreigner of that distinguished rebel and repudiator, General Mahone.

Much of the Country about Yankton Devastated

BY THE GREAT FLOOD IN THE MISSOURI.

Two Men Caught in the Ice at Omaha and Drowned—Grand Scene on the River—Much Damage to the Property of Railroads, etc., etc., etc.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

[illegible], April 7.—A letter received here from [illegible] says that the town of Green Island, which was swept away by the Missouri river, 2[illegible] feet [illegible] of houses, occupied by about 1[illegible] persons. The inhabitants escaped to places of safety. [illegible] town was destroyed. There were no boats [illegible] until the escape, some persons barely saving their lives [illegible]. Several persons were floated on the [illegible] of their houses, which were swept down stream, but all were rescued by means of boats. A [illegible] has been lost. Three houses [illegible] Niobrara county, Nebraska, have been made [illegible] and destitute, and are subsisting [illegible] their neighbors. It is learned that the [illegible] farms to such a depth and extent that it will take several weeks to drain [illegible] and it [illegible] will be three [illegible] is the people have lost all their seed, their wagons and implements. The people of Yankton, Dakota, and St. Helena, Nebraska, have organized relief committees. The Missouri river averages six miles in width for one hundred miles above Ponca. Gorges are still holding firm. Many of the cakes of ice which have floated down past Ponca are reported as being an acre in extent and from three to five feet thick. The worst of the flood has not yet come.

YANKTON, April 7.—The ice gorge, which has been restraining the onward flow of water at this point for 24 hours, broke an hour ago, and the water is falling rapidly and is lower. Yankton has been submerged since Monday morning, and the water was so deep that the [illegible] of 200 dwellings, stores and mills were covered from one to four feet. Much damage has resulted to houses, goods and buildings. The steamer Peninah broke from her moorings as the ice began to move, and has floated with the current a mile, lodging on the railroad track, where she now rests. Reports from the submerged farming districts, received last evening, state that rescuing parties found and landed in a place of safety about 200 persons, who must have perished from cold and hunger, had they not been reached. The weather remains cold, and the situation becomes more serious hourly. The fuel supply has been reduced to the minimum, and many kinds of provisions are running short. Thousands of cords of wood floated off, and there is none in the market.

The Missouri Jammed with Floating Ice at Omaha.

OMAHA, April 7.—For several days, more or less ice has been running in the Missouri river past this point, but to-day at about 10 A. M. it began running thicker than ever, and by noon the broad river was one vast stream of ice cakes varying in size from two or three feet square to acres over 100 feet square, the thickness being from two to three feet. The constant grinding and crushing of the cakes [illegible] noise which can be heard a considerable distance from the river. Trees, logs, bridge timbers, parts of houses, etc., are being constantly swept by, and every now and then they are shot out of the water and up to the ice cakes by the tightening [illegible] waters, which twist the ice cakes round and round, and [illegible] several [illegible] in the water and [illegible] the banks. Thousands of people have been watching the passage of the ice all the afternoon. It was a grand spectacle, a scene equal to it ever having been witnessed here. The ice [illegible] a great deal of it will reach far down into the Mississippi river. The flow of ice will probably last several days here, as information has been received that the gorges above have broken, and that to-day's flow is but the advance guard of the [illegible] will be twenty [illegible] days [illegible]. Sioux City is [illegible] yesterday [illegible] getting [illegible] and [illegible] Yankton and the [illegible] are [illegible].

The river [illegible]

The [illegible] a vast expanse of water and ice from [illegible] miles wide [illegible]. Several extensive lumber yards, smelting works, the Union Pacific shops and pump house, and also offices and a pump house that is to be built for the Omaha water works. The smelting works have been shut down for several days. To-day there are streams of water running through the works with quite a strong current, but as yet doing no material damage. The works are well protected by rip-rap of their own make out of slag, which is much heavier than stone. This rip-rap has been building for years, all the slag from the works being used for this purpose. In its grinding hard against it, but so far it resists all attacks. A rip-rap about 300 feet north of the smelting works gave way, owing to accumulation of water on the sluice, which broke over into the river, and in a few hours washed out 50 feet. The lake is about two feet higher than the river and the current through this opening rushes down with irresistible force.

This afternoon three Union Pacific teamsters—Thaddeus Wren, Michael Cunningham and Nicholas Keenan—who had been rescuing several parties from submerged houses near the Union Pacific shops, attempted to cross this current in a boat a short distance from the mouth. They were warned to go back by General Superintendent Clark and Assistant manager Kimball of the Union Pacific, who, with other gentlemen, were examining the break on the levee; but suddenly they were swept by the current towards an opening in the rip-raps, and becoming excited they jumped out, supposing that as the lake was shallow they could gain a foothold. But the current was too strong that it carried them through the opening into the river of ice. Wren grabbed hold of the boat, which was floated upon the ice, and was pounded almost to death by chunks of ice. General Superintendent Clark grabbed a pole, stepped on a cake of ice, and while a man held his hand, reached the pole to Wren, who was thus pulled out and saved. The other two men disappeared under the ice and were drowned and their bodies were not recovered. One of them reappeared about 100 feet from the shore, and one brave man, at the risk of his own life, started on cakes of ice to save him, but he again disappeared and that was the last seen of him. His would-be rescuer narrowly escaped drowning, and met with great difficulty in reaching shore. Cunningham has a family but Keenan was a single man. The break in the rip-raps is regarded as quite serious. All of the U. P. rolling stock is removed to high ground. The U. P. shops are regarded as safe. All people living on the low lands on either side of the river in this vicinity moved their families, household effects and live stock to places of safety this morning.

BUSINESS STATEMENT.

Splendid Showing for the First Quarter of the Year—Clearing House Statement.

NEW YORK, April 7.—From the Public: In March, 1881, an extraordinary fever of speculation in products as well as in securities, the wildest which the country has seen since 1872, reached its culmination. In March, 1881, business was retarded throughout the country by a series of storms or floods and obstructions of travel or transacted in some northern states were beyond all precedent, yet the volume of business transportation was greater in March, '81, than in March, '80, by 18.7 per cent. Part of this increase was due to speculative activity here early in the month, but exchanges at 22 cities outside of New York were greater in March, '81, by about 8.5 per cent., and this, notwithstanding a decline of 15 per cent. in the average price of cotton since March, '80, of 20 per cent. in the average price of flour, of 12 per cent. in the average price of wheat, of an important decline in petroleum and much larger proportion in many manufactured products, among which iron may be specially mentioned. The decline has been about 37 per cent. in pig iron, about 25 per cent. in manufactured iron and about 17 per cent. in steel rails. Pork products have been about 31 per cent. higher in March, '81, than March, '80, but scarcely any other important class of articles shows any advance. Snow storms have cut down business at Chicago and Milwaukee and affected other cities in a less degree, but only two or three smaller exchanges than those of March, '80, when the boom in business was at its height. The following table shows the amount of exchange both for the month and for the quarter ending March 31, 1881, reports from San Francisco and some other points having been obtained by telegraph:

City.	Month.	Quarter.
New York	[illegible]	[illegible]
Boston	368,743,418	1,061,555,561
Philadelphia	211,151,582	562,555,365
Chicago	140,863,179	411,251,437
Cincinnati	45,598,553	125,264,189
St. Louis	63,631,218	173,503,013
Baltimore	44,327,491	134,276,121
New Orleans	35,076,231	107,961,655
San Francisco	42,892,658	115,352,700
Outside New York	[illegible] 316,844	[illegible]

Exchanges for the quarter [illegible] those of [illegible] New York [illegible] outside of New York exchanges for that quarter were $1,455,[illegible]. In view of extraordinary [illegible] business during the past [illegible] aggregate of transactions and [illegible] at Milwaukee, where a decrease of [illegible] at St. Louis, where it is [illegible]. The volume of business at every city has been greater than during the period of unprecedented expansion a year ago. These figures certainly go far to show that interruption of business by storms and floods have been much less in the aggregate than current accounts have indicated. They show that the volume of trade throughout the country is so great that depressing influences, even though of extraordinary character, are not readily felt.

THE IRISH LAND BILL.

Its Provisions Further Explained—Gladstone's Remarks upon Submitting It to the Commons.

LONDON, April 7.—In the commons Gladstone [illegible] the land bill. [illegible] The house was [illegible] Gladstone [illegible] the bill would deal with which [illegible] landlord and tenant and [illegible] be [illegible] prepared in [illegible] departure [illegible] from the [illegible] that this was the most [illegible] question he had ever dealt with in the course of his [illegible] life. He said [illegible] to [illegible] the history of [illegible] legislation of [illegible] [illegible] landlord and tenant [illegible] deal with the [illegible] and [illegible] landlords [illegible] had [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] and [illegible] peculiar provisions [illegible] present the [illegible] of [illegible] According to the report of the Bessborough commission the Irish [illegible] that they [illegible] not [illegible] but they [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] of the [illegible] as [illegible] the views of the Irish people [illegible] which [illegible] legislation is necessary because of the [illegible] have been [illegible] although the [illegible] limited number of them have been arbitrary [illegible] This was partly [illegible] the reason for the necessity of the legislation he was about to introduce. Gladstone then referred to the partial failure of the land act of 1870, which he attributed mainly, though not wholly, to amendments which the government had disapproved. He then reviewed the reports of the Richmond and Bessborough commissions which he declared, notwithstanding conflicting authorities and recommendations had been of the greatest service to the government. The [illegible] commission, with one dissenting, and the Bessborough commission unanimously agreed in recommending the establishment of a court to deal with the differences between landlord and tenant regarding rent. The two great questions to be dealt with are: First, the relations between landlord and tenant; second, advances from the public exchequer. He declared that never, as a minister, had he submitted any measure with a greater sense of the enormous importance of the proposition he advanced. He then explained and justified in detail the principles of the measure, beginning with the right of assignment or free sale, which he declared already exists by common law and custom. Before the act of 1870 the interest which the tenant had to assign was so small as to be worthless. Under that act the tenant's right in the shape of compensation for disturbance became something definite and considerable. It had been recognized by every member of the Bessborough commission. The minority of the Richmond commission acknowledge it and the majority had not a word to say against it. He continued: The present bill does not reduce an unregulated tenant's right. Provision is made to prevent it from passing into extravagance, and protecting the just rights of landlords by bringing into fair competition the tenant's right to assign and the landlord's right to get what his land is reasonably worth. The salient point and cardinal feature of the bill is the institution of a court to take cognizance of rent, which will not be debarred from taking cognizance of tenure and assignment. There are strong grounds for making a resort to this court optional instead of compulsory. There may be tenants who do not desire interference of this court. Every existing tenant might call in the court to fix a judicial rent for 15 years, during which time there could be no change.

N[illegible] of rent for breach of certain specified covenants. The latter law will remain as now at tenant's option but the tenant will have protection. The court will have full authority over all land cases. It is to consist of three persons, one of whom must be a judge or ex-judge of the supreme court. If it is proper that its seat be at Dublin, but sub-commissioners, shall be [illegible] commission as [illegible] bill [illegible] will be established. It is proposed to assist tenants to purchase their holdings, and [illegible] with power to purchase lands from landlords desiring to sell and resell them, retaining the title as a guarantee for repayment and a [illegible] Advances will be made to tenants [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the treasury [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] stated [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in Ireland as having been made in a just spirit.

Parnell said that he did not intend to express an opinion on the bill. The [illegible] was [illegible] and [illegible] lands that might be purchased for Irish purposes.

Forster took occasion to state that the government would be prepared to make advances to tenants for the purchase of perpetual quit rent, thus fixing the point which Forster omitted to mention in his speech.

The land bill was then read the first time. That portion of the bill dealing with the relations of landlord and tenant was simply covered by the synopsis telegraphed yesterday.

The land bill, since first discussed by the cabinet, passed through twenty-two variations of form. It will include schemes for reclamation of waste land and for emigration.

OFFICE OF THE

Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co.

OF CALIFORNIA.

TO OUR POLICY HOLDERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC OF OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY:

The first consideration with applicants for life insurance is, or at least should be, SAFETY. Will the money paid out for the policy be prudently invested? Are the affairs of the Company honestly and efficiently administered? When the policy becomes a claim will it be promptly paid, and thus the object which induced the payment of the premium be fully attained? These are queries naturally suggested, and the character of the answers determines the course of the questioner and the selection of his company.

In this connection, the Managers of the PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY respectfully beg leave to submit the following facts and statements concerning their Company:

1. Since its organization, A. D. 1868, it has paid 367 death losses, on policies amounting in the aggregate to $937,108.

2. IT HAS PAID TO POLICY HOLDERS, FOR MATURED ENDOWMENTS, DIVIDENDS, AND SURRENDER VALUES, IN ROUND NUMBERS, $1,000,000.

3. It has repeatedly been examined by SWORN EXPERTS, and most thorough and searching investigations made of its condition and business, and in EVERY CASE its solvency and trustworthiness have been demonstrated.

4. Its stockholders and directors are widely known as among the most capable business men and ablest financiers of the State of California, and the integrity of their management is unquestioned.

5. The laws of the State, including the constitutional provisions affecting corporations, are of the most rigid character, such as to make the Company one of the safest institutions of its kind.

Section 3 of Article XII. of the NEW CONSTITUTION of the State of California is as follows:

SEC. 3. Each stockholder of a corporation or joint-stock association shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred during the time he was a stockholder, as the amount of stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole of the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The directors or trustees of corporations and joint-stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint-stock association during the term of office of such director or trustee.

THE PACIFIC MUTUAL IS THE ONLY LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY LOANING MONEY UPON REAL ESTATE ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

It has loaned more than $2,000,000 upon improved Real Estate to citizens of this coast, thus materially aiding in the development of the natural resources of the country, and affording PALPABLE and INDISPUTABLE evidence of its financial strength.

A considerable portion of the sum mentioned has been loaned in Oregon and Washington Territory, and still further sums are now being loaned there.

The following is a list of DEATH LOSSES paid in Oregon and Washington Territory, together with amount of premium paid in each case:

DR. GEO. A. MOORE,
President Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, Sacramento, Cal.:

DEAR SIR: You will please find enclosed herewith the certificate verifying, [illegible] the correctness of your Annual Statement for the year ending December 31st, 1880, [illegible].

It is due to this home company and to its able and judicious management, [illegible] gratification at the healthy condition it is in, assuring [illegible].

Very respectfully, etc., etc.,
J. C. MAYNARD, Ins. Com'r.

We respectfully submit that the statements of the officers of the Company, and the certificate of a competent sworn officer of the State, are better evidence of its condition and trustworthiness [illegible] the malicious statements of irresponsible and shallow pated agents of other companies, who have so little [illegible] of the fitness of things and are so destitute of ordinary business sagacity as to believe that they can advance their own and their companies' business by uncalled for and malicious attacks upon others. The public will do well to avoid an agent, or a company, that possesses so little merit as to be compelled to subsist upon the demerits of others.

Believing ourselves entitled to the confidence and business of such as propose [illegible] upon human life, we solicit their patronage and pledge ourselves to discharge [illegible] important and sacred trusts devolved upon us.

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 8, 1881.

SUNDRY OBSERVATIONS ON RAILROAD MATTERS.

Several papers of Washington territory have spoken against THE OREGONIAN's views of the railroad situation, alleging that this paper is opposing the railway development of that territory by trying to prevent the Northern Pacific from reaching Puget sound.

This assumption is wholly unfounded. Never has THE OREGONIAN favored any scheme of restriction or injustice towards the Northern Pacific. It has at all times insisted on the liberty of largest development for it. It has opposed every attempt to cripple it by abridgement of the privileges of its charter, by mutilation of its land grant, or by laying upon it any sort of onerous conditions. And often it has defended the rights of the company and supported a liberal policy towards the enterprise against numerous assailants in Washington territory, among whom are some of the very same persons and newspapers which now accuse us of a wish to hamper the undertaking.

THE OREGONIAN is favorable to the largest development of this great enterprise. It has made its record on this subject. It supported the Northern Pacific when it was struggling for existence and needed friends. It struck down an Oregon enemy of the enterprise, who was using his position in the senate to cripple and retard it. It did what it could toward protecting the land grant of the company against assailants in Washington territory, who either wanted the grant vacated, or limitations of an onerous nature placed upon sale of the lands, whereby the grant would have been rendered practically valueless. Had it desired to injure the road through obstructions in its way, or prevent it from reaching Puget sound, it would have supported Hipple-Mitchell's scheme, joined in his effort to deprive the company of the land grant on the Cascade line, and insisted on all the other heavy conditions with which he sought to load it, and which his position as chairman of the railroad committee of the senate gave him power to enforce. Had it not been for the opposition of THE OREGONIAN he would have been sent back to the senate on the issue of open hostility to the free development of this great enterprise and to the interests of Washington territory. And yet not a few journals of that territory constantly championed him and denounced THE OREGONIAN for opposing him; and some of them still continue to say that he was the friend of Washington territory. Had he been sent back to the senate, the Northern Pacific company would long ere now have been saved the trouble of attempting to build across the Cascade mountains to secure that portion of its land grant. It would have no grant there; and journals in both sections of Washington territory which then looked on with indifference, or even with disapproval—some of them not sparing their censure—while THE OREGONIAN fought the battle for their territory, would not now be telling their readers that "immediate construction of the road over the Cascades was assured, in spite of the hostility of THE OREGONIAN."

But Oregon has an interest, and a great one, in the unrestricted development of the Northern Pacific enterprise. Washington territory is not alone interested. It would be equally calamitous to Oregon were the Northern Pacific hindered or obstructed in anything essential to its rapid progress, or to the ultimate consummation of its largest purposes and possibilities. This great undertaking has a manifold character. It is at once a national, interstate and local enterprise. We reject utterly the notion that Oregon can not prosper except at the expense of Washington, or Washington at the expense of Oregon. The development of the two will go hand in hand. The Northern Pacific could not hurt Oregon, do what it would. For first, it could not afford to do so, and second, Oregon will have a complete railway system, quite independent of it. We shall be connected with the east by the Union Pacific before the Northern Pacific is completed. In western Oregon we have now over 400 miles of railway, and shall have more and more every year. In Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington, the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company is pushing all necessary lines, and will continue to extend and enlarge the system as the country may require. Holding the only tide-level pass through the Cascade range, and indeed the only pass yet known to be available for a railroad through this mountain barrier, with the certainty that its system will be in operation long before the Northern Pacific can be completed, and that it will always be easier and cheaper to pass through the mountain on a level than to surmount heavy grades in passing over it, the Oregon company has nothing to fear from any phase of the situation, nor has Oregon any cause to envy Puget sound the construction of a railroad across the Cascade mountains. The great bulk of the business will take the easiest and cheapest route. As for Portland, she can safely take care of herself. It has often been said that she owed her position to mere accident—that neither nature nor her own enterprise has favored her. Hereafter, at least enterprise will not be wanting, and if she could grow as she has done through all the years when she did nothing for herself, who is likely to challenge her pre-eminence with success, now that immense forces and vast capital are daily concentrating new energies and interests here? Let the notion therefore be dismissed, if anybody entertains it, that Portland distrusts her own future. She can maintain her position and pre-eminence, and she will. Portland being the chief commercial center of the Pacific northwest, is and will remain the principal terminal point, no matter what railroads may be built. The railroad that doesn't connect with Portland will have small chance for the business of the country.

Moreover the influence of capitalists interested in Oregon will be a great power in the Northern Pacific railroad. In fact this influence fully expects to have virtual control of it. But it does not intend to prevent the fullest development of the Northern Pacific railway system. It could not afford to do this if it had undisputed power. For, as Mr. Villard has shown, the investments of "the Oregon party" in the Northern Pacific are far greater than in the Oregon Railway & Navigation. President Billings has hitherto controlled the largest single interest in the Northern Pacific. The amount of his stock is variously put from six to twelve millions. But "the Oregon party" control over thirty millions already as a single interest. Their object is co-operation between the two companies. On this there is difference of opinion, but it can not amount to much in its results to the country, result how it will. It may, however, be a matter of great interest to the corporations.

Mr. Villard's plan is addressed to the business interests of the two companies. It will secure a through line at an early day, avoid the expenditure of great sums of money at the present time on a section of the road where, until the through line is completed, there could be no profitable traffic, and effect harmonious relations between the two companies for construction and operation. This plan is met by the objection that it is necessary to press the work on the Cascade line at once in order to save the land grant, and that if the Northern Pacific should omit this now, it would thereby lose an opportunity of building west of Wallula at all. The argument seems far-fetched; for the land grant will no more be lost by delay on the Cascade division than by delay on the Rocky mountain division; and if construction is pushed in Washington it will be delayed in Montana; while the Northern Pacific will be just so much longer in getting a through line and will have sundry [illegible] more to keep up for a longer period in unproductive road. Hence, as we have observed heretofore, Mr. Villard's plan seems clearly to embody the better business proposition—and, as a matter of fact it is pretty plain that the road across the Cascades will not be finished till after the main line from the east is completed to connection with the Oregon road. It is natural enough that local interests at the sound, particularly at the point which expects to be the terminus, should oppose this view. For many years real estate there has been held for speculation, and there are great expectations at several places, which very certainly will be disappointed after the railroad shall have been built. But Portland is indifferent to the Cascade line, caring little whether it is built now or at a future time. For Portland is the centre of an independent railroad system, is secure in its future and knows that the Northern Pacific will be compelled to come here for business, no matter what lines it may have elsewhere. The policy which shall be best for the Northern Pacific itself we would like to see adopted. Without boasting of it this paper may fairly say that it has earned the right to be regarded as friendly to that enterprise. It has always greatly desired success for it, because it has seen that the development of the country was largely dependent on its success. It can not be pushed into an attitude of hostility to it by those who hitherto have never been its friends.

INSANE ASYLUM MANAGEMENT.

Mr. Dorman B. Eaton has an article in the current number of the North American Review on the management of asylums for the insane. He lays down these general facts, namely, that insanity is cosmopolitan in character and in the conditions of its successful treatment; that the lunacy administration in Europe is decidedly more economical, more humane, and more effective for good than our own; that no people have exhibited more generosity and humanity in dealing with the insane than the people of this country; and that in no country has the medical profession more capacity for dealing with insanity than in the United States, and yet we have a second-rate lunacy administration. The causes for this he explains very concisely as follows: "First, that the public sentiment and intelligence have not been stirred on the subject, and that the skill of the medical profession has not been brought to bear upon the treatment of the insane. Second, that we have a vicious and defective system for the care of lunatics which excludes light and wisdom from without and breeds and screens abuses within the circle of administration." Mr. Eaton thoroughly illustrates these general causes by showing the absolute authority of asylum trustees, and, still worse than this, the dangerous authority given to asylum superintendents. The superintendent is an absolute autocrat in the domains alike of medicine, business and punishment, "this unparalleled despotism, extending to all hours, to all food, to all medicine, to all conditions of happiness, to all connection with the outer world, to all possibilities of regaining liberty, awaits those whose commitments may easily be unjust, if not fraudulent; whose life is shrouded in a secrecy and seclusion unknown beyond the walls of an insane asylum, and is ever prisoners the most pitiable of human beings, whose protests and prayers for relief their keepers declare, and many good people believe, no man is bound to respect." Finally Mr. Eaton says: "Asylum extravagance, asylum despotism, and asylum politics will fall before public opinion; but not before. All reforms short of this must deal mainly with effects and not with the real causes of an evil."

Talking and talking back is the employment of the senate. Senators spend the time interrupting and replying to each other. Sometimes a pointed remark is the result. The other day Senator Johnston of Virginia, in a long and rather prosy speech, which he intended as a reply to somebody, asked, "What is a Bourbon?" Senator Hoar, who has been doing a good deal of clever speaking lately, answered: "I can tell the senator from Virginia what Bourbon is if he wants to know. He was once a man who never learned anything or forgot anything. The Bourbon has advanced somewhat. He is now a man who never learns anything and who forgets a great deal." The senator from Virginia could not deny that his conundrum had been cleverly answered.

Ohio turns up with a Chinese divorce suit. Wee Sine, of Tiffin, after having been naturalized, has filed his petition for a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Martha Wee Sine. They were married at Akron, July 27, 1879, and at first lived happily together but in the following October she left him in Canton, where he then resided, and returned to Akron, refusing absolutely to live with him again. This is the second or third divorce suit brought by Chinese husbands against their American wives. John is getting extremely independent.

The Chicago Journal thinks now that the "anti-treating" bill has passed both houses of the Wisconsin legislature, an anti-mince pie act will next be in order. The average mince pie, as at present compounded, is more deleterious to health than Rhine wine or Milwaukee lager beer, pound for pound, and to prohibit its use by statute is certainly not beyond the function or comprehension of a legislator.

Secretary Blaine is organizing his hog campaign for an offensive movement. He will carry the war into Africa as it were. Under his orders, Dr. Hamilton is preparing an exhaustive report, showing that trichinæ originated among the effete monarchies of Europe and was imported to this country like many of our other foreign-bred ills.

Chio, the city from which comes such terrible accounts of suffering and death as the result of a series of earthquakes, is the capital of a Turkish island of that name off the west coast of Asia Minor, and is about the size of Portland. It is built of stone and brick.

Secretary Blaine says pointedly that he had nothing to do with the appointment of collector of the port of New York. He knew nothing about it, and President Garfield is not dividing the honor with any one.

Dispatches of to-day indicate that Boss Conkling is beginning to climb down, and is even looking for a soft place to fall. His "war" upon the president for not obeying his orders is a clear failure.

$10 REWARD.

THE OREGONIAN Publishing Company will pay $10 reward for information which will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of stealing THE OREGONIAN from doors of its subscribers in East Portland.

Ten dollars will be paid by the carrier for evidence that will lead to arrest and conviction of any one stealing THE OREGONIAN from subscribers in Portland.

CITY.

CHANGE IN STATIONS.—Gen. Frank Wheaton has ordered the following changes in the stations of medical officers: Assistant Surgeon Charles L. Heizmann is relieved from duty at Vancouver barracks, and will proceed to Fort Townsend, W. T., and report to the commanding officer for assignment to duty as post surgeon, relieving Assistant Surgeon William G. Spencer. Upon being thus relieved Assistant Surgeon Spencer will proceed to Fort Coeur d'Alene, I. T., and report for assignment as medical officer of that post, relieving Assistant Surgeon John H. Bartholf, who will then proceed to Fort Lapwai, I. T., and report to the commanding officer for assignment as medical officer of that post, relieving Assistant Surgeon Rudolph G. Ebert, on temporary duty, who will, without delay, resume his proper station—Fort Walla Walla, W. T.

SISTERS ARRIVED.—The Catholic Sentinel says: It is with great pleasure that we chronicle the happy and safe arrival of six sisters of the Benedictine order, Rev. Mother Stanislaus and Rev. Sisters Evangelist, Agatha and Maura are destined for the mission of Grand Ronde, Polk county, for which mission they will soon leave in company of Mother Prioress and her traveling companion, a young postulant of the same order. After a permanent location in Grand Ronde, Mother Prioress and her companion will return to their home, St. Joseph, Minnesota. These sisters make a great sacrifice in leaving their rather comfortable home, their relations and friends, to come to the far northwest with the holy intention of devoting their lives to the temporal and spiritual welfare of the children of the forest.

OVER THE FALLS.—Yesterday afternoon about one o'clock Ed. Magoon and three other men were bringing a scow loaded with forty cords of wood down the Willamette just above Oregon City. They floated down with the current, using paddles to keep their course. They steered for the head of the locks, but a strong gust of wind carried the scow amidstream. The men were unable to pull the craft to shore, and knowing its doom, hurriedly jerked some boards from the house for oars and jumped into a poor skiff which they had along, and by the most strenuous efforts reached the western bank. As a matter of course, the scow went over the falls,—between the island and Oregon City—and was smashed to splinters. The loss is about $400.

THROUGH CONNECTION.—It is confidently expected that connection will be made and cars run between the Dalles and Walla Walla for the first time on Sunday next. There will be a transfer at Umatilla from broad to narrow gauge, as the gauge from Umatilla to Walla Walla has not yet been changed. The change will however be completed by the 25th. It is understood that the mail will be carried through to Walla Walla direct by rail on and after April 12th. The time from here to Walla Walla will be 24 hours or less.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon Charley Pinkham, an employe of the Northwestern Transfer company, while driving up the incline at McCraken's dock, was thrown from the double-tree, on which he was standing, to the ground. The front wheel of the heavily loaded wagon passed over his legs, just above the knees, bruising the flesh in a terrible manner, but breaking no bones. He was taken to the American Exchange hotel, where he received surgical treatment.

NEW STEAMER.—Chas. Bureau, owner of the little steamer Hydra, has let contracts for the construction of a boat for the Lewis river trade. The craft will be modeled after the new steamer Washington and will have Gates' steering apparatus, etc. Her engines, 12-inch cylinder and 5-foot stroke, and boiler are being made at the Willamette Iron Works. The boat will coast about $15,000 and will be finished with least possible delay.

A VALUABLE NUMBER.—This week's issue of THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN contains, in addition to its usual interesting information concerning the northwest coast, the statements of Henry Villard and Fred'k Billings with regard to the Oregon Railway and Navigation and Northern Pacific railroad companies, published by this journal in advance of all others. Copies in wrappers for sale at business office at 10 cents.

PORTLAND ROWING ASSOCIATION.—At a meeting of the board of directors last evening the following officers were elected: Geo. S. Brooke, president; W. M. Ladd, vice-president; H. J. Corbett, secretary; M. W. Smith, treasurer; J. R. Stoddard, captain; A. S. Watson, deputy captain. Steps were also taken to procure, at an early day, a number of new and convenient boats.

USING THE STEAM SHOVEL.—The Western Oregon railroad company are moving their steam shovel to the big cut, about a mile beyond Fourth street bridge, where it will be used in loading dump cars. Earth will be conveyed from this point to North Front street, and used for raising the grade of that thoroughfare. Work on the street will begin next week.

DELINQUENT SCHOOL TAX.—To-day at 10 o'clock Sheriff Buchtel will sell at the court house door a number of pieces of property in this city on which school tax is due. The total amount of delinquent taxes for school district No. 1 is $1254 66. There will be an opportunity afforded of securing some excellent bargains.

BURIED.—Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock the remains of the late Albert Sylvester were conveyed to Lone Fir Cemetery and peacefully laid to rest. The Washington Guard, of which organization deceased was a respected officer, attended the funeral in a body, and with arms reversed, marched to the grave.

BIDS REJECTED.—Yesterday the committee on streets and public property opened bids for the construction of the B street culvert, and rejected the two presented, one by S. S. Cook & Co., and one by S. Wilcox, both being too high. The work will be readvertised for letting Saturday afternoon.

CONTRACT AWARDED.—The committee on streets and public property yesterday awarded contracts for two blocks of the improvement of Columbia street, to Hall & Nelson, at $2 23 per yard, one block to the Portland Paving Co., who have a private contract with adjacent property owners.

COURT HOUSE INSURED.—Yesterday the county court insured the court house for the sum of $40,000, distributed among the following insurance companies: State Investment, $7500; Home Mutual, $10,000; Commercial, $5000; Hamburg-Bremen, $10,000; Western Fire and Marine, $7500.

RETURNED.—Messrs. Jas. Lotan and J. P. Ward, United States inspectors of boilers and hulls, have returned from an inspecting tour to Shoalwater Bay. At Astoria the steam tender Katata and San were inspected and at Shoalwater Bay the new South Bend tug.

TESTIMONIAL.—Jacobs Bros., of this city, have sent up $150 to J. G. Pilsbury to be divided among the fire companies of Oregon City as a slight testimonial of their gratitude to the fire department for saving the woolen mill. This is very generous and public spirited.

HEAVY FREIGHT.—The Columbia, in addition to the shipment of wheat mentioned a few days ago, takes down 1000 tons of miscellaneous freight, including 300 tons flaxseed, 100 tons pig iron, and a large lot of potatoes.

GOOD SPORT.—John Hughes, H. D. Griffin, C. C. Quinn and Harry Gordon, returned yesterday afternoon from a day's fishing with 340 splendid brook trout. These figures are not exaggerated a single trout.

BEING REPAIRED.—The bar tug G. J. Brenham is lying at Willapa Iron Works' dock, having her boiler thoroughly overhauled and repaired. She will be ready for duty again in three weeks.

LARGE CASTING.—The Willamette Iron Works have just cast for Capt. J. C. Ainsworth's new building, a lintel 30 feet long, weighing 6350 pounds—the largest casting of the kind ever made here.

ANNIVERSARY.—The anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association will take place in this city next Sunday evening at the Congregational and the Presbyterian churches.

ENTERED.—The British ship Clan McLeod arrived here yesterday morning and entered at the custom house. She comes from Kobe, Japan, and brings 55 tons of sand ballast.

COURT ADJOURNED.—The U. S. district court met yesterday and adjourned until 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. L. D. Brown, of the St. Charles Hotel, is a passenger on the outgoing steamer this morning, on a visit to friends in northern California.

Mr. C. C. Pringle, of Charlotte Vt., is to go on a two-years' botanizing tour through Oregon, California, Arizona and New Mexico, in the interests of Harvard college.

Portlanders rejoice! Woods the Hatter will arrive to-day from San Francisco, with the largest stock of hats ever brought to this state, which he intends to sell 25 per cent. less than usual prices.

Take the cherub to Abell on Monday or any day this week, and have a first class picture of the pet. See his baby gallery as well as that of the adults. Fine weather for a sitting.

AMUSEMENTS.

FORGET ME NOT.—Those who witnessed the play of Forget-me-Not last evening will cheerfully agree in the fact that no piece of similar character and plot has ever been produced here which possesses stronger or more intense dramatic interest. Surely no play could possibly be written which depicts more vividly and forcibly the fiendish nature of a woman utterly lost to all sense of shame, conscience and remorse. To witness the cool impudence, the polished heartlessness, the very devilishness of the character of Stephanie Marquis De Mohrivarts, as assumed by Miss Rogers, is enough to fairly chill the blood of the auditors. While there is much to heartily detest in the role personated by Miss Rogers, yet one cannot resist the temptation to admire the wonderful nerve and complete self-possession sustained by this woman in the face of detection and exposure. Miss Rogers gave to this part an ease, grace and polish that was faultless. Her dresses were very rich and in excellent taste. The play ran very smoothly, and from first to last held the audience with an interest earnest and intense. Mr. Grismer as Sir Horace Welby did some very effective acting—always careful, natural, easy and deliberate. He is certainly one of the most finished actors who ever visited Portland. Mr. Colton, as Barato, did some very quiet and acceptable acting. Miss Andrews, Mr. Bradly, Miss Young and Miss Sawyer acquitted themselves each in a very excellent manner. The remainder of the cast was acceptable.

"DANIEL ROCHAT" TONIGHT.—This evening Sardou's greatest creation, "Daniel Rochat," will be presented at New Market. The play has created no little comment in eastern cities and San Francisco, and although the sentiment of the drama has not been generally approved, all critics accord to the author highest praise for its bright and beautiful language, its deep interest and its admirable construction. Following is the plot: "Rochat," who is an atheist and an eloquent politician, meets, in Switzerland, a party of Americans, composed of, among whom are an elderly lady and her two nieces, one full of sentiment, the other full of life and good spirits. The elder girl, "Lea Henderson," and "Rochat" fall in love with each other and are wedded as far as the civil marriage can accomplish it. Here commences the difficulty. "Rochat" will not be a party to a religious marriage and distinctly refuses to go to church. After exhausting all arguments upon him, the aunt politely turns him out of the house. From this on to the end the play shows a struggle between love and what the girl calls conscience on one side, and love and what the man calls principle on the other. In the fourth act, for the action moves slowly, the most moving scene of the drama is found. Unable to bear the suspense "Rochat" visits "Lea" at night, and, allowing his animosity to become prominent, endeavors to win his wife by force of passion. Carried away by his feelings, he consents to a churchly marriage, but— we are not going to tell the denouement.

MATINEE—DANIEL ROCHAT.—To-morrow afternoon "Forget-Me-Not" will be repeated for the last time. Saturday evening the great play of "Daniel Rochat" will be repeated.

MILITARY AND PERSONAL.

[Vancouver Independent.]

Surgeon C. L. Heizman arrived at the post from the east last week, after several months' absence.

It is said that Capt. Lawson of the U. S. coast survey, will return to duty and residence on Puget Sound.

Capt. W. H. Rexford, for many years in command of the Benicia arsenal, Cal., has been ordered to Indianapolis.

Major Sanford, 1st cavalry, has been announced as acting inspector general of the military division of the Pacific.

Capt. Arthur Morris, 4th artillery, stationed at Fort Canby, has obtained two months sick leave, and will go to California.

Lieut. James Ulio, 2d infantry, stationed at Camp Spokan, has been granted eight months leave, with permission to go beyond the seas.

Major A. H. Nickerson, A. A. G., has been relieved from duty in the signal office at Washington, and goes into the war department.

Lieut. Schwatka met with another accident at Governor's Island on the evening of Wednesday, March 16th, fracturing his leg again above the right ankle.

The bills introduced into congress, one to reinstate Capt. Thos. Reilly and the other to reimburse Lieut. F. H. E. Ebstein for moneys lost on the Geo. S. Wright years ago, were not reached before congress adjourned, and are now dead.

The U. S. ship Jamestown is under orders to leave Sitka in May, and the citizens of that place express much regret at her approaching departure. While she has been stationed there, Commander Glass has greatly improved the condition of affairs among the Indians.

Several changes have been ordered in the stations of army surgeons. Surgeon Ely McClellan will change from Fort Lapwai to Vancouver Barracks; Surgeon Bartholf goes from Fort Coeur d'Alene to Fort Lapwai, Surgeon R. G. Ebert will be stationed temporarily there; Surgeon Heizman changes from Vancouver to Fort Townsend, and Surgeon Spencer changes from Fort Townsend to Coeur d'Alene.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Mrs. Litt announces, owing to increase of business the engagement of an assistant cutter. See new ad.

Mrs. G. H. Clarke, at her cosy millinery parlors, Fourth and Columbia, is doing a fine business. See her new card to-day.

My darling, why are you so thoughtful to-night? Well, George, dear, I was thinking how cheap the necessaries of life are. I was into Woods the Hatter, 141 First street, to-day, and I was astonished to see how cheap he is selling children's hats of the latest spring styles. He took the hint, proposed and was accepted. They are to be married at Easter.

Villard the great railroad man is creating quite a sensation in railroad circles, as are Beck & Walsman, who now offer immense bargains in clothing, furnishing goods, etc. Call and investigate the stock and be posted in the matter of prices.

The best men's fine shoes are made by Lilly Brackett & Co., Boston, for sale only by Champlin & Holbrook, Pacific Boot and Shoe House.

Geo. H. Beaver of St. Helena, California, is again on his semi-annual rounds through our state and Washington Territory, supplying his Drug and Hotel friends with his Pure Wines and Vacuum Distilled Grape Brandy.

S. G. Skidmore & Co., 151 First st., are agents for "93 Cough Mixture," an unfailing remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough and all diseases of the throat and lungs. Try a bottle.

French Nougat, Toronto D'Italia Creams, Raspberry Panache Creams, Early Rose Almond Creams, Pistache Almond Creams at Durner's, Fifth and Morrison.

LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY.

Annual Reports of the President and Treasurer of this Organization.

A Year's Effective Labor in the Cause of Charity.

In the swift circling course of years we have reached the 14th anniversary since our organization and must give an account of another year's stewardship.

The meetings of the society have been held each month, as usual, with an average attendance of 18. The largest number present at any meeting was 25, the smallest, on a very stormy day, 11. Four new members have joined during the year. One of our number, who was one of the founders of our society, has left the city, and though still aiding us by continuing membership, we miss her active cooperation in all our work.

Our present number is forty-eight. The minutes of the meetings show increasing work in the charities of the city. Thirty-six families have been assisted by the visiting committees, and many of them at different times during the year, making the number of reports of assistance granted forty-eight. The work at the Home has been about the same as last year.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES.

The following officers and committees were chosen on the 7th of April to serve for the ensuing year:

Mrs. M. Holbrook, president.
Mrs. W. S. Ladd, vice president.
Mrs. J. W. Burrage, secretary.
Mrs. Theo. Wygant, treasurer.
Advisory Committee—Mrs. E. Ainsworth, Mrs. H. Failing, Mrs. Henry H. [illegible] and Mrs. [illegible]

Ward Committees.

First Ward—Mrs. John H. Foster, Mrs. J. F. Jones and Miss [illegible]

Second Ward—Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. William Strong and Mrs. Wilkins.

Third Ward—Mrs. William Wadhams, Mrs. [illegible] and Mrs. Adams.

The number received during the year was [illegible] discharged 33, with an average number of 16 children during the year. Six, who are half orphans, have been boarded during the entire year by their remaining parent. Homes have been found for five. There are now [illegible] children in almost perfect health.

We have cause for gratitude that though the dread disease scarlet fever entered the Home, through a kind overruling Providence and the watchful care of our physician and faithful matron it was confined to one case only.

Mrs. Woods has served as matron the past year with the same acceptance as formerly.

Under her wise and conscientious care the Home is in many respects a model home for children. Neatness, cleanliness and order are taught them and insisted upon, though not to such a degree as to make the child's life miserable. Even in well ordered families one seldom sees children paying such deference to each other's wishes, such freedom from cross or harsh word, and such tender care of the younger and more delicate ones.

Love and kindness are the rules by which they are governed, and even the youngest soon catches the spirit. And we cannot but give the tribute which we think is so richly deserved to our assistant in the household duties, who has served throughout the entire year. To her energy and fidelity is the scrupulous order and neatness in which we always find the Home largely due, faithful and untiring in every duty that will promote the interests of the Home and the welfare of the children.

The expenses of the Home have been larger this year than formerly, as we have made several permanent improvements—as blinds for the building and sidewalks around the lots; but, we think one has only to see the children to feel that every dollar invested for their comfort is paying a good percentage. As our city grows in population the work at the Home, and especially the charitable work that must necessarily be done in the city, will steadily increase. The county commissioners have recently decided not to assist any outside the county farm, and in view of the large amount yearly expended in charities by the county it may be a wise decision, but it necessarily throws all the work of temporary relief on the benevolent societies. In our eastern cities the experiment of associated charities is being tried, and with marked success; and it is hoped, that though our city is still in its infancy, it will soon take initiatory steps in that direction. Respectfully submitted

S. J. BURRAGE, Sec.

RESOLUTIONS.

[illegible] of Protection Engine Co. No. 4. At a meeting [illegible] of the common council, held [illegible] a resolution was passed instructing the [illegible] order the closing of engine house No. 4 [illegible] should the indecent, boisterous and abusive language not immediately cease in and about said house.

In view of the above, the following resolutions were unanimously passed at a regular meeting of Protection Engine Co. No. 4:

Resolved, That inasmuch as the indecent, boisterous and abusive language referred to by the council was not used by any member of Engine Co. No. 4 and that the action of the council in passing such a resolution was contemptible and can only be attributed to spite work, as there was no excuse whatever in casting such reflections on the members of the above company, from the fact that several of the councilmen were informed that the persons using the indecent and abusive language referred to were not members of Engine Co. No. 4; therefore be it

Resolved, That Engine Co. No. 4 take this method of placing the facts before the public and leave them to judge as to the justice of the resolution passed by the common council. COMMITTEE.

JAMES, Studio, Stark St. between Front and First, Portland, Oregon.

THE NORTHWEST.

Western Oregon.

A few fishermen are out nightly but few fish are caught, and only a few canneries are employed.

The thermometer at Jewell, in Nehalem valley, marked 85 degrees on the 31st ult. and the first few days of this month.

Monday Capt. Flavel's noted flyers Tillie W., Sadie B and Ella Fay, were taken to the fair ground, and will go into active training for the July races.

The remains of the little son of Mrs. J. W. Jordon who was killed recently in Oakland, Cal., were interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery at Salem on Tuesday.

A lively little touch of winter visited the region of Astoria between 12 and 1 o'clock Monday. Hail stones lay thick upon the streets and housetops for a half hour or so.

The directors of the Salem public schools have decided that the last term of the school year which will close consist of 9 instead of 12 weeks. Hence it on the 10th of June.

The total number of deaths occurring in Salem during the first quarter of the present year is 12. Of these, 7 occurred in March. No disease has prevailed epidemically during the period named.

The postoffice at Monmouth was broken into Monday night by thieves, and stamps, envelopes, etc., taken to the amount of $30. An entrance to the building was effected by breaking the lock from the door. This is the second time this postoffice has been robbed since last fall.

Lumber is rafted on the Nehalem river now. This is a new idea. There are two mills producing it, one is owned by S. C. Lovell and one by Mr. Spouse. The lumber is rafted a distance of forty miles from Fredonia and Riverside to Mishawaka and Jewell, for $10 per M. feet, or for $7 at the mills. Cedar sells there for less than [illegible]

Southern Oregon.

The capacity of Lobb's mill, at Marshfield, is to be increased by the addition of another boiler and engine.

The fall-sown grain in Coos county never looked better at this date than it does now. A good crop is expected.

The Herman Brothers are getting out [illegible] feet of oak lumber on the South Fork. It will be sold to Parker & Co., and sawed and shipped to San Francisco.

Russell Stephens has finished diking his ranch on Isthmus slough, Coos county. [illegible] reclaims sixty-five acres of fine land, a large portion of which has been ditched and cultivated for some years past. The farm is now in a shape to be largely productive, and the work is a good example for other men who own similar lands in this county.

Eastern Oregon.

A water spout visited Canyon City one day last week, flooding cellars and drenching things generally.

An addition, 30x40 feet, 16 feet eaves, is to be made to the pavilion at the Mount Vernon, Grant county, fair grounds, to be completed by July 4th.

The ferry on the north fork of John Day, at Monument is in full operation with a new wire cable and substantial ferryboat, capable of crossing anything from a herd of sheep to a traveling circus.

W. D. Gilliam, a former resident of Fifteen Mile creek, died at his home at Shoo Fly, in Wasco county, on the night of March 29th, from the effects of erysipelas. Mr. Gilliam was about 55 years of age and an old and respected resident of Wasco.

Washington Territory.

Men are continually going from the sound over into the Yakima country to engage in logging and river driving.

Mrs. S. W. Russell, of Seattle, a lady 73 years old, while cleaning carpet a few days ago, fell and broke her left arm just above the wrist.

Fifteen or twenty men went out on the Puyallup road this week as reinforcements to the surveying force already engaged in the mountains.

The annual session of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. for Washington territory, will convene in Vancouver on the second Tuesday in May next.

Governor Newell has appointed Mrs. Pamelia C. Hale to be a member of the territorial board of education in place of the Rev. John R. Thompson, who has resigned.

On Friday last the house of John Dolan, who lives on the Lacamas, was totally destroyed by fire, and all his household goods were lost in the flames. The money value of the property destroyed was about $600, without insurance and the loss is a hard blow to him. The Vancouver people have this week subscribed liberally towards his relief.

Intelligencer: The northern end of Seattle is making rapid growth. Beyond the barrel factory several houses have been built this year, and several more are now in course of construction. Considerable clearing is under way, and where was a forest and dense growth of underbrush two years ago will soon be a compactly built town or part of a town, with its hotels, school, church, stores, wharves, residences and gardens.

Idaho.

The Wood river fever shows no signs of abating, and persons are leaving Boise City daily for that country, notwithstanding the difficulties in the way.

The equestrian statue of Washington that stands in Capitol square, Boise City, was made the subject of wanton vandalism recently. This statue was chiseled out of a solid [illegible] by Charles Ostner and presented to the territory in 1869. It was covered with a coat of [illegible] and placed on a [illegible] pedestal in the square [illegible] the place.

British Columbia.

Collections at the port of Victoria, B. C., for the month ending March 31, 1881, amounted to $[illegible]

The steamer Cassiar is having [illegible] on her upper deck and will be ready for service in a few days.

James Crawford has gone East and will negotiate while there for a woolen mill to be erected at or near New Westminster with the object of obtaining the government subsidy of $5000.

The quantity of Indian lands sold by the Dominion during the year, in the interest of Indians who surrendered it, was 95,266 acres for $67,624, being an increase over the previous year of [illegible] acres and $225 05 in cash.

Seventy-five tons of tin for cans were landed from the schooner Louisa for the British Columbia Canning Company, New Westminster. The above weight of tin represents a very large amount of exports in the shape of canned salmon.

The Chinese cooks at Victoria, are all going on a strike for higher wages. They scent a probable scarcity of labor in consequence of the increased demand for labor on the Yale-Savona railway. Many "bosses" were notified yesterday and more will be to-day.

Not a Bad Pun.

The New York Herald tells this very good story:

Not very long ago a gentleman appeared in Washington who demanded an office on the ground that he had twelve children and needed bread for them. A man who had brought twelve children into the world ought to have a provision out of the public treasury; that was apparently his simple theory. The secretary of state, to whom the case was made known, remarked that he thought the man fine instance of the reproductive, not assertive, but the joke fell flat on the ears of the poor fellow, who foolishly imagined that any government salary whatever is big enough to keep twelve children's stomachs full.

As a pun this is not discreditable to the wit of the secretary of state, whether Evarts or Blaine is the one who perpetrated it.

Moody and Sankey going East.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Moody and Sankey held their last meetings this afternoon and to-night after four months' continuous work in this city and vicinity. They leave for the east to-morrow by southern routes.

Sutro Tunnel Co. Election.—The Superintendent's Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of Sutro Tunnel Co. was held here to-day. The following trustees were elected: Chas. M. Brush, president; William Irvine, vice president; J. J. Low, David Cahn, Hugh Marsh, Wm. Dodge and Joseph Aron; treasurer, Lazard Freres; secretary, Pelham W. Ames; superintendent, C. C. Thomas. The superintendent's report states that 1440 feet were made on the north and 198 feet on the south lateral tunnel during the year. He refers to low grade ores still remaining in different mines on the Comstock lode which can be worked to profit, which he says would afford opportunity for developing new bodies of ore. He recommends prospecting along the line of Brunswick lode, which is traceable on the surface by well defined croppings a distance of two and a half miles, and has never been prospected. At the depth of the tunnel level, from two small drifts on that lode from the main tunnel, ore was taken assaying from $10 to $35 per ton. Ore from this lode, now being extracted from near the surface is paying an average of $12 50 per ton. The tunnel is now in fine order to develop this lode at minimum expense. He also recommends continuing main tunnel into Mount Davidson by a prospecting drift 2000 or 3000 feet in length, as in his opinion indications on or near the surface at Mount Davidson warrant further exploration in this direction.

Not Guilty.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—The jury, in the case of Sam Tetlow, of the Bella Union theatre, charged with the murder of his ex-partner, Skenthbury, found a verdict of not guilty, after an absence of a few minutes.

Fourth Cargo of Wheat Bags.

The La Escocesa arrived from Calcutta this evening. She has a full cargo of wheat bags and jute. This is the fourth arrival from Calcutta since Jan. 19, 1881, with goods for the new crop grain. There are three more vessels now en route, the last one date 29 day out, the [illegible] Bryant 71 days.

The Dog Show.

The Pacific coast bench show opened to-night at the Mechanics' pavilion. There was a large attendance. The entries were 11, 77 classes, and number 360. In these classes are included some valuable and highly bred sporting dogs, watch dogs and poodle dogs of every description. A special feature of the exhibition will be performance of highly educated trick dogs, of which there are a large number. In the class for the largest dog breed, there are some animals almost as large as a small pony.

FROM WALLA WALLA.

Railroad Matters—Through Line.

WALLA WALLA, April 7.—The O. R. & N. Co.'s broad gauge track was finished to Coyote last evening. The track from Coyote to Umatilla was widened to-day. Next week daily trains will run between Walla Walla and The Dalles, leaving here in the evening and reaching The Dalles in time for the boat next morning. Passengers will change cars at Umatilla.

A Lively Blaze.

At a quarter past twelve last night a fire was discovered in the front of Park's restaurant, corner of First and Alder streets, kept by Mrs. Adelia Bockler. The proprietress escaped in her night dress by the rear entrance with her children. Others had as narrow an escape. Four wooden buildings, the property of William Stephens, were totally destroyed, and one partially. Loss, $2500, insured in the Home Mutual, with two other buildings for $1450. Mrs. Bockler, who occupied the three buildings, lost all her furniture and surplus clothing. Insured for $1000 in Commercial of California. The other building was occupied as a Chinese wash house, loss $250. Several others sustained small loss by removal and water. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. A heavy wind was blowing and an extensive conflagration prevented by hard work and good management.

Tunneling for Goods.

This afternoon a tunnel was discovered leading from Third street under Hawley, Wallace & Co.'s bank, to the rear of Schwabacher Bros.' store, and thence through the wall into their cellar. In the tunnel was found three bales of clothing, boots, black silk dress patterns, etc., worth several hundred dollars, which were recognized as Schwabacher's goods. Wooden trowels, augers, [illegible] used by the tunnel diggers, were found.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

W. H. Roberts Appointed Clerk of Customs at Port Townsend.

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T., April 6.—Secretary Windom has confirmed the appointment of W. H. Roberts to the chief clerkship in the custom house at this port, vice Wm. M. Herald, who has been promoted to deputy collector. Mr. Roberts served in the California volunteers during the war of the rebellion and was one of the first to join the grand army of the republic at its first organization in California.

Sagacious Remarks on Bernhardt.

From the Troy, N. Y., Times.

Bernhardt's forte lies in storming her audience at the first charge. She astounds you with her aplomb, and then gathering all the force of her eclat she produces an éclaircissement. That being accomplished, the audience are captured, and she sways them at her will. Her voice is nonchalant and recherche, possessing all the naiveté of the most refined espiegleria. A scarcely perceptible bon vivant in the left eye gives a hauteur to her glance that materially adds to the parlez vous of her dishabille. But it is the final bete noir, when all her efforts culminate and scintillate in one effervescence in one grand chevaux-de-frise, that she is immense. Recovering her elan, and exciting all the intense sang froid of her figure, uttering a shrill qui vive that makes the soi distant welkin ring, she seems to burst on the entire tout ensemble, until you see her whole bon font qui mal y pense. You shut your eyes, open your mouth, and sit shivering like a dog swallowing bones. When you again open your eyes the scene is closed, and Bernhardt is gone.

PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.

We call especial attention to the report of the commissioner of insurance of California as to the standing and business of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co. of that state. The healthy condition in which the company is found, will no doubt be gratifying to its numerous policy holders who daily read THE OREGONIAN. We feel justified in recommending a company so well and favorably known to the people of Oregon and Washington territory as the Pacific Mutual. In all their many dealings with our people, we have never heard of the least dissatisfaction on the part of its policy holders. Knowing of so large an amount of insurance being carried in this company by so many of our best business men, and noticing that so many of California's best financiers are connected with this company, also that a commissioner whose duty it is to examine such institutions can give so favorable a report, we wonder why attacks are sometimes made against this company. These attacks, we believe, are usually made by rival companies and their agents; but when we consider the fact, that the company does so much more business upon this coast than any other regular life insurance company the attacks are not so surprising. One feature of this large business which we would particularly mention, is this: that when desired by the assured, the company will have its policies registered by the state, and the reserve on said policy deposited with the state treasury. Again, the company is loaning thousands of dollars in Oregon and Washington territory. The company is a home one and has its assets scattered among our people in the shape of first loans on the broad cultivated acres. It is natural for men to take advantage of this and prefer the Pacific Mutual to the others. This will of course make it hard for other companies to get business and the Pacific Mutual a hard [illegible] when these facts are so well known. It is true the Pacific Mutual is not a company of fifteen, thirty or ninety millions of assets, but by looking over the statements of those companies we notice correspondingly large liabilities. As shown by the Pacific Mutual's statement, we find they have $[illegible] of assets to cover every dollar of liabilities, a showing worthy of pride to the parties its management.

WHY?

[illegible]

Why should she sit in her silk and lace?
I have but calico wear,
Only a street lies between our two faces—
Sometimes a street is as wide as a sea.

Why should I be dream away beautiful hours?
Why must I labor from morning till night?
Why has she bracelets, and pictures, and flowers?
Why have I nothing to gladden my sight?

Why should she ride at her ease and her leisure?
Why must I walk, though I stagger and fall?
Why has she servants to come at her pleasure?
Why have I nothing, and why has she all?

Why comes her lover to her in the gloaming?
Why do they murmur, and laugh at the gate?
Why should I never have any one coming,
Coming to me, be it early or late?

Only a street lies between our two faces—
She rides in her coach, and I sequester the dust.
How will it be in heavenly places?
Fate has been partial, but God will be just.

FEELS YOUNG AGAIN.

"My mother was afflicted a long time with Neuralgia and a dull, heavy, inactive condition of the whole system; headache, nervous prostration, and almost helpless. No physicians and medicines did her any good. Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters, with such good effect that she seems and feels young again, although over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine fit to use in the family."—A lady in Providence, R. I.

THURSDAY EVENING, April 7.

Slight variations of the Liverpool market during the past week have not affected wheat prices here. Anything that looks like an advance is at once added to the price of charters by ship owners, who holding the situation in their own hands, are able to demand just what they please. Throughout the season they have persistently asked just as much as wheat could stand, and in no instance have they failed to secure their demands. While the market here drops at once upon a hint of weakness in Europe, a strong market there only benefits those who hold cargoes on passage, or who have ships to charter. There has been no variation in the price of wheat at this market for the past week, or in fact for three weeks. $1 70 has been paid all that time and some business has been transacted almost every day. We [illegible] of several instances where holders refused offers of that price. Advices from Europe to-day report the market a little off, and prices may in consequence decline here. Wheat continues to come in from the interior at the rate of about three thousand sacks per day. Receipts have gone slightly above that figure this week. This about balances shipments.

Only two vessels have been added to the list looking this way—the Belle of Oregon and the Saranac, both on berth at New York. They will arrive way in the future, not before five months. No charter has been reported here during the week. 87s 6d is asked for the Oudelat, but it is hardly probable that a charter at that rate can be secured for her. A shipper paying this rate could not afford in the face of the present Liverpool market to give more than $1 [illegible] per cental for wheat. The Ellerbank now on her way up the river, from the market. 80s 6d offered for her prior to arrival, was declined.

Clearances.

The Br bark Scottish Fairy cleared to-day for Liverpool. She carries a cargo of 10 092¼ bbls of flour valued at $40,037; and 600 cases salmon valued at $3003.

The steamship Columbia cleared to-day for San Francisco. She takes 1000 tons of general freight and 300 tons of wheat.

Home Produce Market.

Market is well stocked with flour. Oats are steady and stocks light. Nothing doing in wool. New clips will not come in before July. Hay is scarce and prices have advanced. Stocks are very light. Owing to green pasturage, demand for mill feed is declining and stocks are accumulating. Stocks of dried apples also accumulating. As green apples are growing scarce the usual spring demand will soon commence. The market is well supplied and prices have declined. Oregon butter is commencing to come in. Stocks of onions are light. Receipts of eggs heavy and market weak at quotations. There is no Oregon cheese in market. California cheese arriving freely. Green apples are about out of the market. The market is again flooded with potatoes and prices have dropped. No prospect of better prices this season.

FLOUR—Price has declined. Quotations for round lots $4 25 for standard; $1 75@4 for good country brands.

PEARS—Choice varieties, 50@75c ₱ box.

Meat.

The market is well supplied with stall fed meats and there seems to be no danger of the usual "blue beef" season. Following are slaughterer's quotations:

BEEF—3½c ₱ lb gross.

PORK—6@6½c, net.

MUTTON—2¾@3c, gross.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

Full Review of the Produce and Merchandise Market, Specially Reported and Telegraphed to The Oregonian.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—There was no disposition on the part of wheat holders to shade prices yesterday, as the English market was reported strong at a slight advance on cargoes off coast. Here business is restricted, the number of ships in port being limited, and except recent arrivals, all are provided with cargoes, which enable shippers to act independently of holders, and they are not slow to avail themselves of the opportunity. Barley is still held with some firmness, but buyers show no disposition to purchase at present asking rates which gives a dull tone to the market. Corn and oats remain steady under a fair demand. A meeting of millers operating what is known as "New Process Flouring Mills," was held in this city Tuesday evening to advance the interests of the export trade. By establishing a high grade to be certified to by the association, it is thought the objection shown by foreign dealers to California flour, an objection that arises chiefly from a wide difference in grade will be obviated. An organization was effected by the adoption of a constitution and by-laws and election of officers to hold until the first annual meeting, to be held on the 2d of next month in this city. It is expected by that time all of the first-class millers in the state will be enrolled in the association. A committee was appointed to establish the standard of the grade of shipping flour, to which shipping members must conform. All millers capable of manufacturing flour of the grade established as the standard for export are invited to join the association. It was voted by the meeting that the house of D. M. Thompson & Son, of Liverpool, be appointed sole agent in England of the association for receipt and sale of their flour.

Freights and charters—British bark Cordillera, 852 tons wheat to Liverpool direct, £4 | Cork U. K., £4 5s 6d; Br ship La Escocesa, 954 tons wheat to Cork U. K., £3 10s prior to arrival. There is no disengaged vessel in port suitable for wheat.

MARK LANE REPORT.

LONDON, April 7.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the British grain trade for the past week, says that the growth of young wheat has been checked by sharp east winds and frosts. Genial temperature and showers are wanted. English wheat continues in limited supply at previous market rates and dry sound samples, being in small proportion, realized improvement. Trade was narrow and limited. Inferior qualities are difficult to sell. The supply in London has been larger. Foreign breadstuffs are slow and quiet. Throughout the wheat supply was restricted. Friday's spot trade is quiet, mainly millers resisting advance. Off coast market is scantily supplied, one American red winter and two California being the only cargoes arrived, and only one of these was sold. Floating cargoes are quiet and weaker in London. Trade both in spot and off coast was unaffected by American advices. Flour was in less supply and the demand is sluggish. Country markets, however, sustained last week's currencies. The foreign supply, which has been good, was chiefly from America, millers, in view of prospective arrivals, refusing to concede the advance. The market was mostly in buyers' favor. Barley weak everywhere but the scarcity of good samples and demand for seeds have supported previous values; foreign drooping. Oats quiet and unchanged, foreign in small supply and firmly held, buyers awaiting arrivals from the Baltic. Maize is in limited spot supply, with large prospective American and Danubian arrivals. Trade has weakened. Sales of English wheat for the past week, 28,637 quarters, at 44s 1d per quarter, against 24,000 quarters, at 45s 4d for the corresponding week of last year.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The freight market fails to show any signs of improvement, and there is general quietness that is not at all desirable. However ships are doing as well as could be expected and meet with fair dispatch. Rates remain steady at last quotations, but there is no doubt but that any desirable lot of freight would be taken at a slight reduction. Tonnage is not over plenty, yet our lines are not in want of vessels. The barks Belle of Oregon, 1109 tons, and Saranac, 1081 tons, have been taken for Portland with railroad material. Isthmus freights remain very dull notwithstanding railroad agents make contracts with certain parties to carry a portion of their freight by steamer and a portion by rail. One large commission house has made a contract, and hereafter a portion of their goods will go forward by steamer at a rate considerably less than by clipper.

Markets remain dull.

Wheat—Easier and dull.

Barley—Neglected.

Pork—Steady.

Lard—2½c higher and dull.

Rio Coffee—Fair demand and a ½c higher; firm.

Refined Sugars—Good demand and steady.

Turpentine—Dull and lower.

Petroleum—More active and firmer.

Hops—Demand for choice, which are scarce.

Whisky.

CINCINNATI, April 7.—Whisky, 1 cent lower.

Gold and Stock Reports.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.

Receipts—Wheat, 38,593 centals, including 25,000 on board ship; flour, 4000 qr sks; potatoes, 1600 sks; eggs, 23,000 doz.

Wheat—The market is quiet with prices against sellers. The demand for export is checked. There is a small demand for milling. Among the sales today were the following: 35 tons choice to extra choice milling, $145; 50 tons choice shipping, $1 40; 75 tons fair shipping, $1 38¾. The market is easier at former quotations.

Oats—Offerings are small. The market is firm with a fair inquiry. We quote as before.

Barley—Market shows no feature of striking interest; feed 82½@90c.

Potatoes—Prices gradually weaken here. The demand is a trifle better. Chili garnet, 80@90c; peerless, 80@85c.

Hides—Market steady at previous prices.

Salmon—The market is quiet. Complaints are made that Sacramento river and inferior northern are being packed here as Columbia river salmon.

Eggs—The demand and supplies about balance, we quote as before.

Butter—The market is firm under a better concentration of stock. Dealers are packing. Quote at 20@23c.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

TROPIC-FRUIT

LAXATIVE

Prepared from tropical fruits and plants.

Is thorough in its Medicinal Action, and yet so agreeable to the taste that patrons often disregard our injunction to divide the lozenge into parts (say two doses) to meet their respective cases. At the outset it is especially essential to observe the directions closely till one becomes accustomed to its use—when mild action and the most satisfactory results are sure to follow.

Ladies and children, and those who dislike taking pills and nauseous medicines to secure cathartic action, are especially pleased with this agreeable specific.

Try it once, and you will esteem it highly as a safe, pleasant, and effective remedy.

Packed in bronzed tin boxes only.

Price, 25 cents.

Large boxes, 60 cents.
